

The background of the invitation features a dark, atmospheric illustration of a Halloween night. A large, bright yellow full moon hangs in a dark blue sky, with several black bats flying across it. In the center, a dark, multi-story house with a pointed roof and several glowing orange windows is visible. The house is surrounded by dark, gnarled trees and a forest of smaller trees in the background. In the foreground, two large, carved jack-o'-lanterns with glowing orange faces and mouths are prominent. The ground is dark and covered with small pumpkins and scattered orange leaves. A small, glowing lantern on a post is visible on the right side of the image.
